TRACK IN FINE CONDITION

COURSE AT CHURCHILL DOWNS IN SPLENDID SHAPE FOR WORK.

Trainers Tightening Up Their Charges for Meeting Soon to Begin—Ed Alvey Disposes of Pinkola and Friend Harry—A Bit of Live Gossip.

Louisville, Ky., September 21.—The track at Churchill Downs today was in splendid condition and had there been racing, records could have been made. Sharp work marked several moves. Nimbus worked the fastest mile, breezing along in 1:45. The best half was by Anna, a three-year-old filly trained by Carroll Reid. She went the route handily in 49 $\frac{1}{2}$. Other good trials were as follows:

Barclay—their five-eighths in 1:07; pulled up.

Ben Double—Quarter in 24 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Bronco—Five-eighths in 1:06.

Captain Hogan—Three-eighths in 37.

Crash—Half mile in 50.

Czar—Mile in 55.

Edna Collins—Quarter in 24 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Fairy Story—Five-eighths in 1:05.

Friend Harry—Three-eighths in 39.

Jack Denman—Three-eighths in 39.

Lady Ornament—Three-eighths in 37.

Louis des Coquets—Three-eighths in 37.

Louis Katz—Half mile in 52.

The Pippin—Three-quarters in 1:20.

Third Rail—Three-quarters in 1:19.

Pinkola has been sold, together with his stable companion, Friend Harry, to E. G. Isaacs, a druggist of this city. The price is private and after the passage of the bill of sale between Edward Alvey and Mr. Isaacs, the horses were immediately transferred from the care of Tom Hatfield to the stable of W. H. Fizer, who formerly trained the pair. Mr. Alvey bought Pinkola and Friend Harry out of the Fizer stable at Douglas Park in the fall of 1908 when Pinkola was a three-year-old and Friend Harry a two-year-old. Mr. Fizer at that time trained for Woodford & Buckner and Mr. Alvey paid $15,000 for the two horses. Trainer John G. Ferriss had Pinkola in his string last winter at Juarez, while Friend Harry was turned out on the Douglas Farm, near Louisville. Last spring Mr. Ferriss turned the horses over to trainer Hatfield, who has had them in charge until the present time. The sale closes out Mr. Alvey's interest in horses with the exception of Colonel Bob, which is still in training Hatfield's care. Pinkola is engaged in eight stakes this fall at Churchill Downs. He is in the St. Leger Handicap, to be run on October 1, the opening day, and Friend Harry is nominated for the same event. They are also well engaged in the fall stakes at Latonia.

Secretary L. H. Davis received a telegram today from James Blute to the effect that he would ship twelve horses to Churchill Downs tomorrow from Sheepshed Bay. They will arrive Saturday morning at the Downs.

George M. Odom, owner of Follie Levy, Nimbus, Prince Gal and others, said today that the only race in which he ever rode in the west was the last race in which he rode was the Lawrence Realization of 1905, his mount being Bandy and the winner being Sysonby. Odom said that when he ceased riding he could still, by hard reducing, make 112 pounds, but he found that his health was being sacrificed. His weight now is 140.

Charles F. Grainger, president of the New Louisville Jockey Club, has returned from a visit to New York and other eastern points. He was at Saratoga throughout the racing season there. Mr. Grainger is optimistic about the turf in general. He says it will again flourish on the metropolitan circuit because a majority of the best people want it to. Concerning the fall meeting at Churchill Downs he predicts that the sport will be the best ever witnessed here. Many easterners will come to Louisville, he says, during the meeting.

James Gass says that Maltbie, which he turned out in Connecticut for George Reif, is broken down just above the tendon of the left foreleg, but he thinks time will heal the defect. Fighting Bob, he says, died under unusual circumstances. The horse was well when placed on the train at Louisville and when unloaded from the car in New York was almost as rigid as if dead. Notwithstanding this condition the horse lived thirteen days following the strange attack. Mr. Reif collected from Lloyds $3,000, so the loss on the colt which finished third in the 1910 Kentucky Derby was not complete.

One feature of the coming meeting at Churchill Downs which will be unusually bright and sparkling this fall is the Gentleman's Cup Race, an event annually on the card here. No less than eight good riders have signified their intention of riding in this race this fall, including Messrs. Collyer, Pierce, Caldwell, Tiller, Merman, Keene, McIlvain and Dinkelspiel. With such an array of good riders it will be possible to get together a better lot of horses than ordinarily run in such a race. The cup which goes to the rider of the winner of this event will be an unusually beautiful creation this fall.

At Churchill Downs the grounds now present a beautiful appearance. The painters and whitewashers have about finished their jobs, the landscape gardener has completed the weeding and pruning of the flower beds and the inner field has been mowed to a velvety smoothness. The touching up of the betting ring will be finished this week and in a few more days everything will be ready for the opening day on October 1, when will be inaugurated what promises to be the greatest fall race meeting ever held south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Zienap, W. F. Schulze's frequent winner, is again in training and is reported to be in excellent condition.

JUAREZ TRACK IN FINE SHAPE.

New York, September 21.—Algernon Daingerfield and J. G. Follansbee have received word from Alberto Terrazas that the improvements undertaken at the Juarez race track earlier in the year are about finished and that everything will be thoroughly ship-shape for the opening of the winter meeting Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Daingerfield expects to receive entry blanks for the stakes early in October. The Juarez stakes for the coming meeting will be bigger than those of last winter and the overnight purses will be considerably more liberal. "We did not make any money last winter," Mr. Follansbee said yesterday, "but we would have if we had kept going a month longer. The attendance increased steadily as the end of the meeting drew nigh. We did not keep going because we did not care to overdo the thing the first season. We were well satisfied with the results of our first meeting at Juarez. Organized racing was new to Mexico and some missionary work was necessary. We believe the sport of the coming winter will demonstrate that our first season's work was effective."

"The Juarez track will be in much better condition than it was last winter. It was then new and the going became pretty hard toward the end. The course has undergone special treatment the past summer and it will be its light and springy as any other when the horses go back."

That Mexico will eventually become a valuable market for American thoroughbred stock Mr. Follansbee is convinced. Throughout the republic wealthy men are turning to the thoroughbred.

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS AS JUDGE OF YEARLINGS.

Louisville, Ky., September 21.—In a conversation at Churchill Downs today several horsemen agreed that Capt. James T. Williams is undoubtedly one of the best judges of weanling and yearling thoroughbreds that ever bid off a colt or filly in the ring. His first investment in this line was in the early 'seventies, when he bought Vera Cruz at one of M. N. Sanford's sales on the estate that now is a part of J. B. Haiggin's Elmdendorf Stud. Vera Cruz was placed in the Kentucky Derby in 1878 and won for St. Leger in Louisville that fall. About the same time he bought Classmate, a filly, and another youngster, Spring Branch. They proved to be stakes winners, too.

In 1882 his purchase was Bob Miles, one of the greatest all-around racers ever owned by Captain Williams, though he failed with him in the Kentucky Derby, in which he ruled as one of the favorites. In 1883 he was again busy in the yearling market. He picked up a good-looking colt by King Alfonso, which won the Kentucky Derby in 1885. This was Joe Cotton. For several years Captain Williams rested and those horses raced by him belonged to the older division. In the early 'nineties, however, he cut in again in the yearling sales market and acquired the noted horse, Glockner. He was a racer that will always be recollect, owing to the fact that whenever it was muddy the bookmakers rarely figured on the winner. They drew a ring around the name of Glockner. Glockner was on the turf a number of seasons. This kept Captain Williams out of the sales ring for several years. Then he tried again and picked up Prof. Bechen, a good one. The same year he selected Phil Finch and the next season, for $210, he landed Ram's Horn, which he ran after a religious publication. For several years Captain Williams kept away from the yearling sales, but in the fall of 1908 he concluded that he would buy several weanlings. Among the youngsters was a colt for which he paid $175. That colt is the present Governor Gray, rated by Captain Williams as a $20,000 proposition.

Captain Williams never has been guided by pedigree in buying youngsters, nor has he observed any system in selecting young racers. Appearance counts most with Captain Williams and breeding is about the last thing he depends upon. In some respects he has followed the advice H. Eugene Leigh gave a newcomer in the game. Leigh told that man to go to Kentucky, pay no more than $500 for a yearling and pay no attention to pedigrees.

They have been breeding in that state for 100 years and the horses are all well-bred. Get a good trainer and if you have good success they will say you are a scoundrel and if you fail they will say you are a sucker," concluded Leigh.

Captain Williams never has permitted himself to be impressed with an extortable. As result the limited number of horses trained by him receive his personal attention. He has seemingly no method as a trainer; that is, he neither belongs to the old or new school. But his starters are always conditioned and fit when they come on the track, ready, as old John Harper used to say, "to run from end to end."

Captain Williams now is past sixty years of age, but he is alert and able to attend to his track duties regularly. While he did not have the great Isaac Murphy under contract, it was on his great horse, Checkmate, that the black Archer earned his first reputation as a rider of brilliancy. Never will it be forgotten how Checkmate, in 1882, with Isaac Murphy on his back, defeated the mighty Hindoo, with James McLaughlin up. Checkmate and Hindoo were wonderful riders, but the superior condition of Checkmate enabled the son of Glen Athol to beat the sire of Hindoo. This was proven a few days later when the two horses again met in the Louisville Cup race. This time Hindoo was right and he won.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

The Turf, Toledo, O. Verified and correct.

L. S., Indianapolis, Ind. Infatuation was 7 to 10 place, Candidate 2 to 5 place.

Fleming, Chicago. Isabel Casse was second to Yankee Lady in the race of August 20.

Frank H., Chicago. Cannot inform you, having only secured such particulars as we published.

Levy, Cincinnati, O. The place bet was a draw, but some bookmakers would pay it because of the stipulation.

H. A. D., Chicago. The straight bet was lost, the place and show bets were draws because there were no separate place prices.

Meyer, Memphis, Tenn. La Reine Hindoo, 3 to 5. Mendip even. Merry Gift, Ferrand Cecilian, Miss Felix and Flying Squirrel out.

T. Ryan, Ponca City, Okla. Over recognized tracks—Stranger, bay horse foaled in 1899, by Goldfinch—Darebin, ran nine races, of which he won two, was second in one and unplaced in six.

R. S., Chicago. (1 to 5) The men who do the work involved are of great experience and dexterity and it is as accurate as it is possible to be. (6) Any divergences from accuracy are so slight as to be immaterial and would not affect your calculations. (7) Ten feet is the usual allowance, but seven feet is the true measure. (8) Not exactly, but practically the same as the returns at the track, except that a limit is made as to long prices.

GOOD PRICES FOR YEARLINGHS.

Average of $345.75 Obtained for 67 Head on First Evening of Lexington Sale.

Lexington, Ky., September 21.—The Kentucky Sales Company's auction of thoroughbred yearlings, horses in training and broodmares was begun last night in Horsemen's Headquarters with the sale of 67 yearlings for an aggregate of $22,165, representing an average of $345.75. The bidding was brisk and the status of the market was better than it was generally supposed it would be. The first 25 head sold were consigned by Messrs. Milton Young, John D. Carr and Thomas Platt. Before the sale opened these three consignors, in discussing the probabilities, made the statement that they would be entirely satisfied if the 25 head averaged $350. They averaged $458.40. Henry McDaniel, trainer for R. L. Thomas, was the heaviest buyer of the evening, having purchased six head at an outlay of $5,650, including the star of the offerings, the brother to Cohort, a brown colt by Cesaron—Ondalan, for which he paid $2,500. For the half-brother to Clara Hanover and Petronius he paid $1,000. The second highest price was $1,650, paid for the brother to Sempronius by Charles Bowman, who is reported to have been bidding for W. T. Anderson, owner of the Victoria Stable. The same buyer paid $1,100 for the chestnut colt by Ormus—Perth Center.

The brother to Donan, winner of the Kentucky Derby of 1910, was knocked down to Mrs. W. G. Yankee for $1,000. Mrs. Yankee was at the ringside, did her own bidding and expressed the opinion that she had secured a genuine bargain.

Andrew Robertson, of Melbourne, Australia, paid $575 for the half-brother to Chicago Lad, Starter Mars Cassidy, bidding for Albert Terrazas, of Mexico, bought several for an average of a little more than $100. The demand for fillies was not as strong as for the colts, even when they were superb individuals. The best prices were:
